

BELL CRANKS AND HANGING ELEMENTS

Equipment ensuring the protection of overhead lines when changing direction.

Main characteristics

These products guarantee the protection of overhead lines when changing direction.

2 versions are available:

- bell cranks for LV networks to protect twisted overhead lines when changing direction
- bell cranks for LV connection for the hanging and changes of direction of LV connection and public lighting.

Advantages

- High resistance to weathering
- Material: thermoplastic highly resistant to weathering and UV
- Pole and wall application

Uses

- Public distribution of electrical energy
- Public lighting